When was the last time you checked your phone? Just now, minutes ago, or seconds before we began?

We are living in a remarkable era: Instantly connect across the globe

But, how is constant connectivity affecting our real-world relationships

Problem

As cities get bigger and more technologically sophisticated, there is an increase in loneliness

Solution

Create a website that matches you with a dining buddy at local eateries based on shared interests

ConnecTable

More than a site, a movement to rekindle human connection

ConnecTable

Future Goals:

App integrates with Apple Wallet

Map points for seats

Age-range matching

Ice-breaker games

Chat feature

ConnecTable

At Connectable, we turn solitary meals into social experiences. Reconnect, one meal at a time
